The Built Environment Infection Prevention Initiative (BEIPI) is a specialist interest group of the Healthcare Infection Society.

Our purpose is to bring together infection prevention and control (IPC) specialists, designers, engineers, construction professionals and policymakers to reduce healthcare-associated infections (HCAIs) linked to the built environment and reduce the immediate threat of antimicrobial resistance (AMR).

About the conference

The UK's multidisciplinary event for clinical IPC, hospital leaders, design, construction & estates professionals

The inaugural Building Safer Hospitals Conference curated by BEIPI \(Built Environment Infection Prevention Initiative\) will bring together multidisciplinary professionals involved in the planning, design, construction and maintenance of healthcare buildings, with the shared ambition of:

- Embedding infection prevention principles into every stage of hospital buildings
- Improving occupant safety within the built environment to save lives and reduce the threat of antimicrobial resistance (AMR)
- Saving money for the NHS and construction firms through reducing costly remediation works

Building Safer Hospitals offers a valuable platform to showcase your products and services to key decision-makers involved in the design, construction, and maintenance of healthcare facilities. With delegates spanning IPC, estates, architecture, engineering, and construction, sponsors gain direct access to professionals shaping safer healthcare environments.

Corporate Partnerships

The Healthcare Infection Society (HIS) is a membership organisation representing over 1,400 members who are experts in the prevention and control of healthcare-associated infections (HCAIs).

Our members are drawn largely from the medical profession, and are predominantly consultant microbiologists and doctors enrolled on an infection specialty training programme. Nurses, clinical scientists, research scientists and others with a demonstrable professional interest in HCAIs are also a vital part of our membership network.

Our corporate partnership programme offers exclusive opportunities to collaborate, share expertise and showcase your commitment to infection prevention. Whether you're looking to engage with key decision-makers or enhance brand visibility, HIS provides a platform for meaningful connections and impact.
